

Independent Patient Assistance Program Foundations

The following are independent charitable Patient Assistance Program Foundations. These foundations are not affiliated with Eli Lilly and Company and have been established and are operated independently. Each foundation provides a variety of support for eligible patients that is foundation-specific but may include patient counseling, financial support for prescription drug and other healthcare costs (e.g., may include co-payment/premium costs), and other support. Go to the following websites or contact each individual foundation directly for further information on the type of support provided, the eligibility criteria, and the application process for each independent foundation.
